Anaplan Workflow

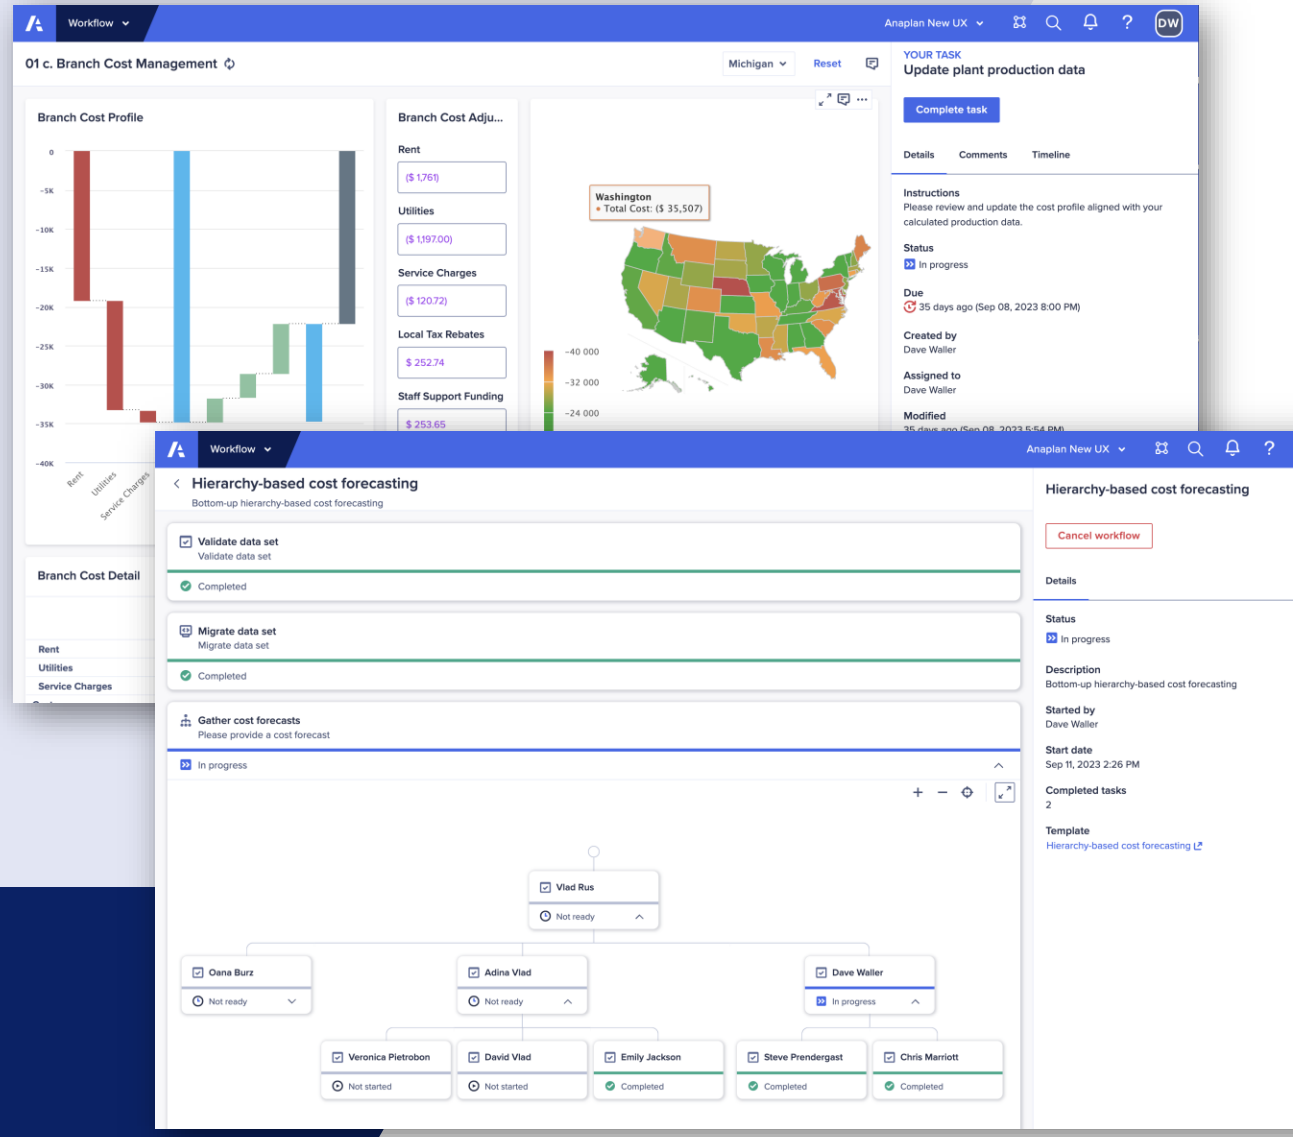
27 June 2024

Why Workflow?

Engaging large communities of users as part of planning can be costly and time-consuming, involving manual monitoring of progress and alerting when action is needed.

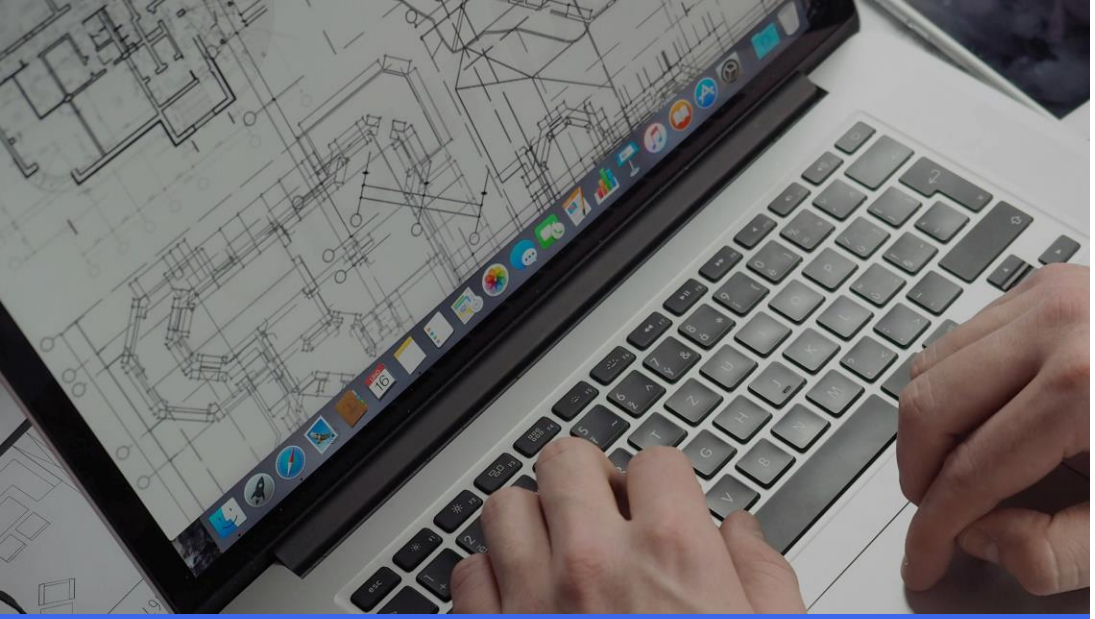
KEY CAPABILITIES

- ✓ Automate business processes making them repeatable, reliable and low-effort.
- ✓ Alert and notify users, drawing them in to act, exactly when needed and as quickly as possible.
- ✓ Provide end users with a clear, low-learning-curve experience when engaging with their tasks.



OVERVIEW

Workflow, coupled with Collaboration and end-user planning actions, drives user engagement, helping to deliver greater accuracy and efficiency with little-to-no learning curve.



Customer story: Multinational Software Corporation

USE CASES – Finance

- Cash flow planning
- Free cash forecasting
- Accounts payable forecasting

CHALLENGES

- High administrative overhead managing the process
- Errors and inconsistencies in data lead to rework and cause costly delays
- No tracking of planning conversations spread across many platforms

BENEFITS

- Automated notifications and task transition reduces the need for administrators to manually manage the process
- Focused experiences for contributors and tight approval/feedback loops help guarantee consistent, uniform, and accurate data inputs
- Task-based commentary is moved from email / Teams chats / calls to a single, auditable location
- Reduction in overall planning time

Customer story: Pharmaceutical & Medical Technologies Corporation

USE CASES – COE operations / Finance

- Pre-planning model preparation
- Cross-department & cross-geo charging

- Pre-planning preparation is expensive, requiring many stakeholders from multiple teams with multiple, costly touchpoints
- Cross-geo charging planning spans across 150+ groups processing 600+ data changes per month

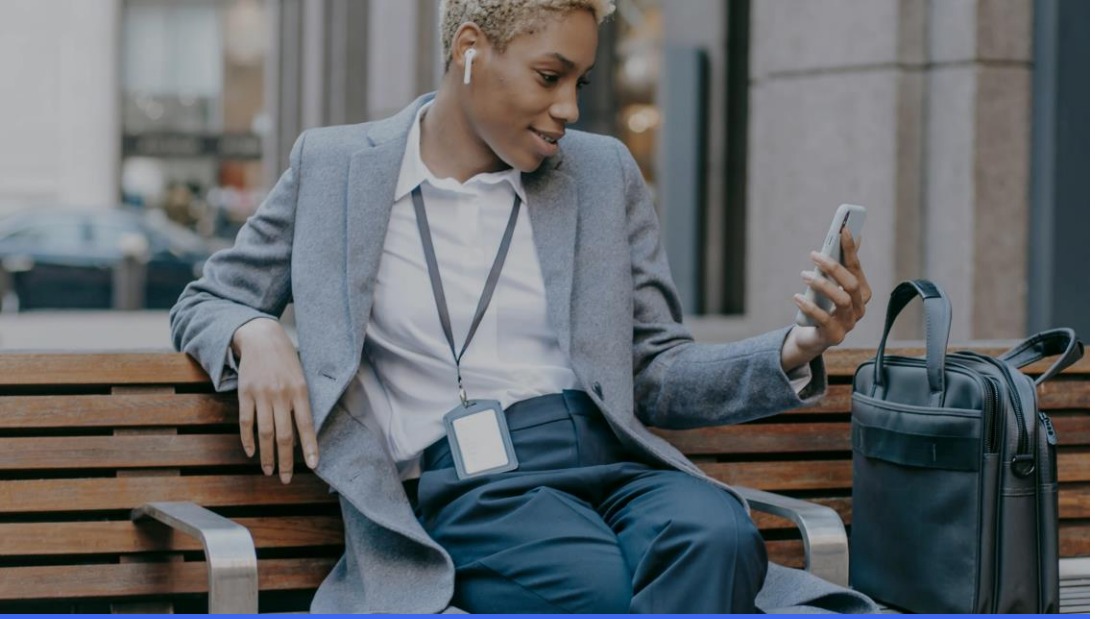
- Reduction in expensive, offline communication – often consisting of 10+ attendees,3-4 teams, meeting multiple times per week, sometimes multiple times per day
- Automated notifications and low-effort approvals ease coordination of planning
- Accurate and timely tracking of process and task status
- Delivery of streamlined and targeted experiences for end users



Customer story: Global Social Media Platform

USE CASES – Sales

- Approval-heavy sales operations processes
- Revenue split agreements

CHALLENGES

- Low confidence in data quality can lead to low confidence decisions
- Stakeholders often leave submission of data to the very last minute
- Large volumes of data can make approvals complex

BENEFITS

- Targeted experiences for users and quick approval/feedback loops improve data quality and overall confidence
- Faster approvals with targeted approvers seeing only the most relevant content
- Reduction in overall planning stress experienced when time pressures are combined with unorganized data
- Reduction in last minute change requests using upfront data validation
